

BUILDING AN ANGLO-MOROCCAN GARDEN

FACULTY OF LETTERS AND HUMAN SCIENCES, CADI AYYAD UNIVERSITY, MARRAKECH, 2014.

This project transformed an old parking lot at Cadi Ayyad University into a beautiful garden.

The design was based on the Islamic char bagh format, which is used in English gardens too!

The garden has raised beds to make it easier to look after. Most of the plants are ones that Shakespeare wrote about - many of these can be grown in both Morocco and England!
